

Study for the Month October, 2010

The End-time Theocracy

By Nathaniel Fajardo
Whole Gospel Ministries

The last form of government of the United States, and the whole world after it, will be a theocracy in its final world-wide form.

The four fields of vision of the book of Daniel (chapters 2, 8, 11, 12), and the supplementing prophecies of Revelation chapters 13, 14, 17, and 18, reveal that the democratic form of government, as America knows it, which it has been trying to export to other nations, will not be its end-time form of government and neither in all the democracies of the world. It will be the final form of Roman Catholic theocracy, albeit brief. Each of the four fields of vision of Daniel ends with the Roman element of form of government and the .

A theocracy is _____

See “Sharia Law and Old Testament Law” 10/2/2010 by Rick Crotn, at BaytownSun.com religion article.

See YahooNews: 10/12/2010 “Pope Outlines Latest effort Revive Christianity”—

“Vatican City—Pope Benedict XVI formally created a new Vatican office Tuesday to revive Christianity in Europe, his latest attempt to counter secular trends in traditionally Christian countries.

“In a decree, Benedict said the new office would promote church doctrine, use the media to get the church message out and mobilize missionary-type activities.

“But even on its first day of existence, the Pontifical Council for the New Evangelization ran into an all-too-typical Vatican snag: The four-page decree instituting the office was issued only on Latin and Italian

As numerous and as conflicting their creeds their individual creeds may appear, there are only two classes of Christianity rapidly forming—the faithful and the apostate. Apostate Christianity, composed of the “mother” papal church and all her “daughters,” that is, all the Protestant churches who once opposed the papacy during the Reformation but now have compromised their beliefs and made apologies for her career of unparalleled persecution during the Dark Ages and embraced her two fundamental doctrines of the immortality of the soul and Sunday sacredness, does not need a revival. The exact opposite is true.

in Europe, is not dying that it needs to be revived. In fact, it is expanding rapidly dead, nor is papacy, according to prophecy. First of all the definition of Christianity needs to be corrected.
It

See Appendix, p. 762-3 of Patriarchs & Prophets re: Theocracy.